PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Antoni Majka
DOCKET NO.: 03-27108.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 18-06-423-015-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Antoni Majka, the appellant, by attorney Rusty A. Payton of the Law Offices of Rusty A. Payton, P.C., Chicago, Illinois; and the Cook County Board of Review.

The subject property consists of a 76-year old, one-story dwelling of stucco construction containing 1,430 square feet of living area with a full, unfinished basement, central air conditioning, and a two car detached garage.

The appellant submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of the appeal. In support of the equity argument, the appellant submitted a grid analysis detailing four suggested comparable properties. The appellant's map indicates the comparables are located in close proximity to the subject. comparables are one or one and one-half story stucco or frame dwellings that are 77 to 113 years old. Each has a fireplace. Three comparables have partial basements and one comparable has an unfinished basement. Their living areas are from 1,547 to 1,742 square feet in size, and have improvement assessments of $12.81 to $14.80 per square foot. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $21.34 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's final assessment was disclosed. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review offered the property characteristic sheets and a spreadsheet detailing four suggested comparable properties located on the same block or in close proximity to the subject. The comparable properties consist of one-story frame, frame and masonry, or masonry dwellings that are 38 to 62 years old. Two comparables have partial, unfinished basements, one comparable has a full, finished basement, and one comparable has a full, unfinished basement. Two comparables have central air conditioning. Each has a fireplace. Two comparables have two car detached garages, one comparable has a two car attached garage, and one comparable has a one car attached garage. The dwellings contain 1,035 to 1,518 square feet of living area and have improvement assessments of $15.54 to $20.16 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Property Tax Appeal Board further finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted. The appellant's argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has overcome this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of eight equity comparables. All the comparables submitted had lower improvement assessments than the subject. The appellant's comparable two and four differed in design from the subject. The board of review's comparable one, three, and four were significantly newer than the subject. Comparable two was significantly smaller than the The comparables had improvement assessments of $12.81 subject. to $20.16 per square foot. The subject's improvement assessment of $21.34 per square foot falls above the established range of these properties. After considering adjustments and the differences in both parties' suggested comparables when compared to the subject property, the Board finds the subject's per square foot improvement assessment is not supported by the most comparable properties contained in the record and a reduction in the subject's assessment is warranted.

As a result of this analysis, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the appellant has adequately demonstrated that the subject dwelling was inequitably assessed by clear and convincing evidence and a reduction is warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board are subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
